Buy Fresh Buy Local is a project of Food Routes Network, in partnership with Sustainable Green Country (SGC), a NE regional chapter of OSN and the Oklahoma Farm and Food Alliance (OFFA). Indian Health Care Resource Center and the Tulsa County OSU Extension are major partners. Visit www.okfarmandfood.org or Rita Scott at 918-640-5408 for more information.
LOCAL FOODS CREATE COMMUNITY
The Farmers’ Market casual atmosphere builds community with the enticing open air commerce and fresh goods. Money spent with local farmers and artisans stays close to home, working to build the local economy. Since the food moves through fewer hands, more of the money you spend gets to the producer. Know your producer, maintain green space, and achieve peace of mind by supporting the Buy Fresh, Buy Local movement. Take your time, enjoy walking around the market! Have fun, get some exercise, and pick your produce, while building your community at the local Farmers’ Market!
